

Qualitative Data Collection and Analysis Strategies

Tracie L. Hitter, Ph.D. & Anna Lopez, Ph.D., Department of Counseling & Educational Psychology
Mary Alice Scott, Ph.D., Department of Anthropology

3 day workshop offered on Fridays
 from 9-Noon and 1-4PM
 Breland Hall 175
 Friday June 23, 2017
 Friday June 30, 2017
 Friday July 7, 2017

This workshop will introduce students to data collection and data analysis strategies for qualitative research. Discussion of data collection will include interviews and observation, and other strategies of interest to participants. Data analysis will include techniques for coding data and introduction to NVivo qualitative data analysis software. Participants should come to this workshop with a theoretical framework and research question in mind.

Tracie Hitter is a counseling psychologist whose areas of research and clinical interest include sexual trauma and clinical training.

Anna Lopez is a counselor educator, supervisor, and researcher. Her primary area of research revolves around Social Justice and Advocacy issues specifically related to immigration and deportation.

Mary Alice Scott is a medical anthropologist with 10 years of experience conducting ethnographic research in Mexico and the United States.

For more information contact Anna Lopez at annalo@nmsu.edu